ISPECIAL CABLE TO THE EVENING WORLD.1 LONDON, Oct. 28 .- This was the last day of the Newmarket Houghton meeting and last day of racing at "beadquarters" until the Craven meeting in April next year. The race of the day was that for the Jockey Club Cup of the value of £300, added to a Sweepstakes of £20 each, half forfeit, run over the Cesalewitch course (2 miles, 2 furlongs and 28 yards), three-year-olds to carry 110 pounds; four-year-olds, 124 pounds; five, 126 pounds, and six and upward 128 pounds, with an allow-ance of 3 pounds for mares and geldings. Lord Edward Somerset's four-year-old Lord Edward Somerset's four-year-old colt Carlton was the favorite and winner, he having ran third two weeks ago for the Cesarewitch at 128 pounds. He is well bred, being by Pell Mell out of Bonnie Spec, and up to Oct. 1, this year, he had in turn won the Chester Cup, worth £967, the Manchester Cup £2,381, walked over for the Queen's Plate of 300 guineas at Ascot, won the Queen's Plate of the same value at Stockbridge, won the Goodwood Stakes of £535 and the Doncaster Cup of £290, all of which were at long distances. As a three-year-old Carlton was not successful, but as a two-year-old he won the Palatine Nursery Handicap at Liverpool and the Lancashire Nursery Handicap.

[APRCIAL TO THE HYRMING WORLD.] PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 28.—Commenting on the manifesto issued by the Provisional Comnittee of the Knights of Labor from Chicago, he Journal of United Labor says to-day in a arcastic vein : "It is unnecessary at this time o dignify the matter further than to state that it is the last expiring gasp of the Anarchistic element which sought to disrupt the General Assembly. . . Thirty-five representatives are stated to have been present at the meeting at which this manifesto was adopted. The test vote in the General Assembly on earrying the red flag of Anarchy in processions of the Knights of Labor was 112 to 29. It seems, therefore, Labor was 112 to 29. It seems, therefore, that the twenty-nine sympathizers with Anarchy who voted for the red flag in the General Assembly were able to capture six more for the purpose of carrying out, after the General Assembly adjourned, what they were powerless to accomplish while it was in session.

Philadelphia delegates who were supposed to be included in the thirty-five were shown the editorial and expressed their disapproval of it. BRAVE CAPT. GIBBS BURNED ALIVE.

Pate of a Well-Known Beatman who Tried to Save the Books of a Blazing Steamer. [SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]

MEMPHIS, Oct. 28.—News of the destruction by fire of the stern-wheel steamer Alberta No. 3 was received in the city to-day. The accident occurred at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, near Indian Bay, Ark., on White River, seventy-four miles from the mouth and 252 miles, by the river, from this port.

and 252 miles, by the river, from this port. The steamer was on her way from Newport to Memphis, and had on board 572 bales of cotton and many tons of cotton-seed, all of which were consigned to the merchants and oil mills in this city.

The fire, the origin of which is unknown, was discovered on the lower deck among the cotton bales. The alarm was sounded. The crew responded promptly and soon had several streams playing on the flames. But it was useless. The fire had already gained a good headway and every moment the fire grew in intensity, and though the officers had fought hard they were finally forced to abandon the steamer.

All reached shore safely save Capt. William Gibbs, the chief clerk, who was caught in the cabin, while striving to save the books and was unable to escape. Capt. Gibbs was about sixty years of age and had been a steamboat man nearly all his life. He was well known on the upper White and Black Rivers, where he had many friends.

JAY GOULD'S TRIP ABROAD.

SOME BROKER'S RELIEVED, BUT MORE IN-DIFFERENT ABOUT IT.

would have been aroused in financial circles over the announcement of the speedy departure of Mr. Jay Gould for Europe for an extended tour had it not been for the lang expected. Now, however, that the date of his departure has been set, and there is no longer any doubt about his intentions, the

ORE lively interest

event has called forth no end of comment among the brokers, and this morning it was the principal topic of conversation in the street.

As Mr. Gould has given no official infornation as to his intentions to the public, it was natural that all sorts of guesses and queries should be hazarded as to the real significance of the great stock operator's latest move, and a few were disposed to believe that he had some ulterior object to accomplish by his trip abroad than to obtain recreation and benefit his health. The general sentiment, however, seemed to be that Mr. Gould, feeling that he needed rest from his almost continuous labors of the past few years, had determined to take the vacation which he has often said that he needed.

To a reporter of The Evening World Commodore A. E. Bateman, one of the most prominent operators in the Street, and known as an opponent of Mr. Gould in the market, said this morning:

"The announcement was not a surprise to the street, I for one have known that was natural that all sorts of guesses and

"The announcement was not a surprise to the street. I for one have known that Gould has been getting his house in order for some time past, two years at least, in order to get away. He has transferred the control of the large corporations in which he is interested to his son or his friends, and now has a finely organized crowd. His intention has been to arrange his affairs in such a manner so that he could enjoy the great fortune which he has accumulated for the remainder of his life."

"Do you think he is going out of the market altogether?"

Do you think he is going out of the market altogether?"

"I think that is the general opinion of the street. He would take a supervisory interest in his properties, and he can do that in Europe as well as he can here, possessing all the cable facilities necessary, but as for speculating, I believe he is out of it."

"Then you do not helieve his trip, has any

It may be laid down as pretty certain that his absence will not have a great influence on the market one way or the other."

In the opinion of Henry Clews Mr. Gould's absence will be a benefit to speculative interests, for he believes that as the former does not intend to engage in any important deals.

not intend to engage in any important deals while abroad, his absence will be the elimination of a very dangerous element of disturbance from the local market, element of disturbance from the local market, and that the course of speculation during the next few months will in consequence favor operators on the bull side of the market.

Another well-known authority on Wall street matters, asserted that Mr. Gould was going abroad principally for his health, he thought he was going to try and list his Western Union on the London Stock Exchange, but this view was strongly combated by another, who said that Mr. Gould would be the last man to personally undertake a matter of this kind, for if any representations were to be made about his telegraphic properties he would prefer to have it done by others than himself. It was suggested that perhaps he might be intending to make some political combination with the Maine statesman who is now wandering some political combination with the Maine statesman who is now wandering on the Continent, but this was pooh-poohed as improbable, as when Mr. Gould had any dealings with the politicians they

President Charles G. Wilson, of the Petroleum and Stock Exchange, and George R. Gibson, a prominent dealer, both thought that Mr. Gould would retain his interest in the market sufficient to keep an eye on his specialties, but that his movements abroad were a matter of indifference to the public.
As the representative of a prominent firm said this morning, the real reason of Mr.

It is said that some of the younger brokers in the "street" are jubilant over Mr. Gould's departure, which they regard as a godsend to the market that they have chartered three German bands of full-test wind-power to be present at the wharf. Western Union and Its Rivals to Stop So-Telegraphic rate competition is at an end.

The United Lines and postal companies have agreed to conform practically to the rates of the Western Union. The agreement was reached yesterday at a conference between Jay Gould, Manager Brown, of the Mutual Union, and President A. B. Chandler, of the United Lines. To an Evening World reporter President

Chandler said to-day: "It is true that arrangements were concluded yesterday, designed to put an end to the wasteful competition that has hitherto existed between the telegraph interests. It provides for equal rates up to twenty-five cents and somewhat lower rates by competing companies between distant points, where the rates are higher than twenty-five cents.

"There has been no sale or lease or merging of properties in any form. Nor is there.

"There has been no sale or lease or merging of properties in any form. Nor is there, so far as I know, any intention or desire on the part of the owners or managers of sither of the properties looking in that direction. The Postal and United Lines companies are absolutely independent. They have never approved of the excessively low rates forced upon them by the fierce competition between the Baltimore and Ohio and the Western ern Union. They now expect to receive their full share of on the patronage at rates which will enable public patronage at rates which will enable them to maintain and operate their property by pursuing a just and considerate course towards all their patrons. The new rates take effect Nov. 1.

"The advance does away with the adoption of ruinous rates only. It does not do away with general telegraph competition."

SAW HER FATHER'S SPIRIT BECKON.

Esther Margolino Obeys a Summons to An other World by Means of Paris Green. Coroner Levy was to-day called upon to hold an inquest in the case of Esther Margolino, of No. 177 Clinton street, who poisoned herself with Paris green last night, She left the following letter to her husband:

the following letter to her husband:

MY DEAR MYES: I hope you will forgive me for what I have done, as to live for me is such misery it is simply impossible. I wish to God I would have taken your advice, I would not have come to this. I cannot tell anybody how I feel. I hope you will bury me in the same place with all the relatives, and I hope you will try and make yourself happy and pray for me. I am suffering now eight weeks and I cannot stand it longer. May God bless you that you may never have any trouble more in your life, as I know you have had plenty with me lately, as you have been a good husband to me. Give my love to all and may God bless you; so good-by and think of me.
I am your unfortunate wife.

It is thought that the woman was demented. It is thought that the woman was demented.

She had the delusion that her father, who has been dead some years, used to appear to her and beckon her to follow him. Recently she attended the funeral of a friend and at the grave she imagined that ahe again saw her father, and he commanded her to give up this life and join him in the other world.

Apologizing for Col. Fellows Ex-Senator Ecclesine, counsel for Samuel Will iam Pittman, the murderer, walked into Part I. of the Court of General Sessions this morning and the Court of General Sessions this morning and made an unnecessary apology for Col. Fellows's failure to appear and try the case before Judge Glidersleeve yesterday. He said that he was to blame, having missed a train. This was an excuse for the ex-Senator, but hardly one for the Colonel, whom he attempted to exculpate. As the term will close next Wednesday, the Pittman case will not be tried before the November term, which begins a week from next Monday.

This morning the third day of registration began. Reports received at the office of the Chief of the Bureau of Elections show that there is every pros pect of a heavy list of names. The political fac-tions are exerting themselves to bring out a full vote, and John J. O'Briet thinks that it will be made heavier than when Hewiti, George and Roosevelt ran for Mayor, and may reach the totals of the Presidential year. There were a few vacancies among luspectors of Election, due to sickness or absence from duty, which were filled promptly.

Dinner With a Suggestion of Soap. Col. William Harry Beard, the Republican leader in the Twentieth Ward in Brooklyn, will give a dinner at his residence, 184 Clinton avenue, to-morrow evening to Senator Frank Hiscock, ex Senator Warner Miller, Col. Frederick D. Grant, Eugene F. O'Connor, candidate for State Senator in the Third District, and some other Republicans of rote in the City of Churches. Col. Beard is very rich, as are Mr. O'Connor and several others of the expected guests, and the machine in Brooklyn needs money. Treasurer Birkett, of the Campaign Committee, may have more funds after this little dinner.

Against People Who Don't Pay. Newsdealers' and Stationers' Union, No. 6, has called a meeting to take place next Tuesday evening at No. 2317 Third avenue to ratify the "anti-dead-beat platform," to elect a committee to work for the abolition of illegal newstands in the ele-vated railroad stations and to devise plans to bring oppressive publishers to terms. The "anti-dead-beat platform" comes out strong against public office-holders and contractors who do not pay their just debts. The agents in this city of the Havana steamer City of Alexandria, which was due last Wednes day, say there is no cause for anxiety for her safety. On account of the cholera scare here the health officers of Cuba ordered all vessels touch-ing at the Cuban ports to be quarantined. This why the City of Alexandria is overdue. She left

Mrs. Benoni Lockwood, of 114 East Eighteenth street, who is a sister of Secretary Bayard, laughed at the latest specials from Washington announcing his approaching marriage to Miss Sophie Markoe, of the State Department. They are, it seems, the standing joke of the family, Miss Markoe is a relative. Mrs. Lockwood will give some dinners soon in honor of Miss Ellen Terry. No date or even year has been fixed for the marriage of Mr. L. Mortimer Thorn, jr., and Mrs. Lillian Gwynn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Gwynn, as Miss Gwynn, who has been out only for a few months, wishes to enjoy society as a young lady for a year or two previous to her marriage.
